

LEAGUE ABANDONS ITS CONCILIATION EFFORTS

FIGHTERS IN "PINK" DOCTORS DECLARE

Brown Bomber Eleven Pounds Lighter at Weighing In

BULLETIN

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Making concessions to avoid any prolonged hitch in preparations for tonight's million-dollar heavyweight battle, the managers of Joe Louis agreed to the use of specially-made gloves after a bitter argument marked by a dramatic threat by Max Baer to call off the fight.

Baer scored two important points during a stormy session in the downtown offices of the state athletic commission which followed the weighing-in.

During the height of the deadlock over what kind of gloves were to be used, the former heavyweight champion stalked abruptly off the meeting, shouting "the fight's off," but his manager, Ancil Hoffman, remained to get the concessions that Max wanted.

Made Concessions
John Roxborough and Julian Black, the co-managers of Louis, not only agreed to adopt the special type of glove desired by Baer but conceded the use of additional bandages and tape on the hands, thus in effect yielding to Max's desire for all possible protection of his previously damaged fists.

The special gloves feature a protective insert of leather for each thumb. They also are designed with the idea of preventing the user from employing "thumbing" tactics. They have never been used before in New York.

Louis and his managers at first insisted they wanted the regulation gloves, denying any previous agreement on changing the type at Baer's request. It was at this point that Baer stalked out of the meeting.

Rules Waived

The commission agreed to waive its rules on the use of bandages after Baer's manager persuaded the Louis camp to make another concession. Instead of the customary six feet of one-and-one-half inch soft bandage, 12 feet of two-inch gauze will be permitted. The bandages will be fastened with six feet of tape instead of the usual limit of two feet.

The biggest crowd that has ever gathered for similar preliminaries, upwards of 50,000 spectators, swarmed around the state office building until the flare-up over the gloves was over and all hands had departed, to await the big battle.

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Max Baer, the former heavyweight champion, will enter the ring tonight with an advantage of 11½ pounds over Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber, in their million-dollar heavyweight scrap.

Baer scaled 210½ pounds and Louis 199½ at the official weighing in—this afternoon at the offices of the state athletic commission.

While a crowd of more than 3,000 fight fans swarmed around the outside of the state office building reflecting the feverish fight interest that has swept the big town as nothing has done in a dozen years, the principals in the 15-round match at the Yankee Stadium took things calmly.

Baer was 20 minutes late in arriving, accompanied by his manager, Ancil Hoffman, and Jack Dempsey, who announced definitely he would be in the Californian's corner tonight.

Nod Louis' Greeting

Louis, who had arrived early and seen kept waiting nearly an hour by his rival, looked up from a perusal of the comic pages of a newspaper to acknowledge Baer's "hello" with a short nod of the head.

The fighters, a room's length apart, had nothing else to say. The room was packed solidly with officials, newspapermen and hangers-on. Baer and Louis posed for picture after picture as nearly 100 photographers went into action.

There was not the slightest surprise manifest by the weights of the two fighters, both of whom appeared in superb condition and on edge for a bout that has attracted sensational interest and appears certain to be fought before a crowd of upwards of 90,000 fans.

Louis scaled a shade more than had been expected. Baer was within a half pound of the figure his handlers had predicted.

Birthday Gift

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—George Vanderbilt became 21 years old today, and he also became a millionaire 20 times over.

The young explorer, who was married Sept. 6 to the former Lucille Parsons of West Orange, N. J., now possesses one-half of his inheritance.

At 35, he'll inherit the other half of his share of the millions left by his father, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who perished on the Lusitania.

LEGION PARADE DAY'S FEATURE AT CONVENTION

St. Louis, Sept. 24.—(AP)—In colorful peacetime demonstration, 70,000 veterans of the World War marched again today in the annual American Legion parade.

Hundreds of thousands of cheering spectators lined the twomile route of march. More than 125 musical organizations, including 100 drum and bugle corps, and many crack drill teams, excited wave after wave of applause.

It was perfect early fall weather. A few white clouds flecking a deep blue sky.

Most of the marchers retained a semblance of military order, but snap and precision was not expected and was not apparent on the part of the blue capped legions.

Infantry from Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, and St. Louis National Guardsmen, reinforced the entire St. Louis police department in keeping order.

Regular business of the convention, which began yesterday, and will resume tomorrow, was waived in favor of the six hour parade.

Small groups knotted in committee rooms, however, plotted the order of business for tomorrow, the day that will see the Legion's ambitious 1935-36 program, geared around a demand for a cash bonus, set in motion.

Virulent Fever in Ethiopia to Follow Current Rainy Spell

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A Reuters (British) news agency dispatch from Addis Ababa quoted a prominent medical authority today as saying there would be no war in Ethiopia for at least a month, although the rainy season has virtually ended.

The authority explained, the dispatch said, that a virulent fever would break out in the Ogaden desert area and part of the Tigre area as soon as the rains ended, and would continue until the end of October.

"There is stagnant water in many places and a consequent increase in malaria germs, often coupled with cholera and other diseases," the dispatch quoted. "Only about the beginning of November does the fever begin to disappear."

J. Justus, head of the band and orchestra department of the university. The famous bandmaster will take an organization of 60 pieces and four soloists on this tour, which will end in Beaumont, Texas, a few days before Christmas, thus allowing Mr. Mason to spend the holidays here.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A mother and her 18-year-old daughter reportedly were seized on the north side early today by a man described to police as resembling "The Scourge," who has attacked four women in the last six days.

Mrs. Patricia Allen and her daughter were on their way home from a theater when they said they were pushed into an armway by their assailant.

"Don't scream or I'll mash your face," the man was reported to have said as he dragged them alongside a building.

NEW ULTIMATUM IN MINE STRIKE

Miners' Stand Threatening Quick Settlement of Wage Dispute

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A new ultimatum from miners to mine operators raised doubts today as to the speed with which the soft coal strike might be settled.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, emerged from a conference on the thorny problem with the assertion that the miners would not agree to less than a 9 cent a ton increase in pay for men who dig and load coal.

Edward F. McGrady, Assistant Secretary of Labor, had reported the operators willing to agree to a 7½ cents boost.

Referring to the 9 cent union offer as the union's "last word"—all other points at issue had been settled—Lewis said the special committee of two miners and two operators was still engaged in a "thumb twiddling talkfest."

"As far as we're concerned, they can take it or leave it," Lewis said. "These mutual admiration sessions are beginning to wear out as far as we are concerned."

McGrady, President Roosevelt's representative, sat in an antechamber outside the negotiating room. He said he still hoped there would be a speedy agreement.

Secretary Perkins at her press conference expressed optimism as to the "ultimate outcome" of negotiations.

"I share with Mr. McGrady the feelings of optimism about the outcome but I wouldn't want to date it," she elaborated.

TAX LEVY WILL BE GIVEN BOARD DURING THE DAY

The board of supervisors were convened in adjourned session at the court house today awaiting the report of the finance committee on tax levies for the next year. The committee was to present its report at this afternoon's session and it was rumored that there would be no changes in the recommendations at last week's meeting.

William F. Scholl of this city in a communication to the board this morning, asked for the refund of the sum of $7.60, explaining that an error had occurred on the county records in the payment of the 1931-32 tax on a plat of land. The board voted to refund the amount.

The fees and salaries committee recommended an increase in the sum of $360 per year for field expenses in the office of County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake.

Supervisor John Archer of Brooklyn township turned over to the county treasurer today the sum of $297.93 representing the township's balance on a loan made by the county for pauper purposes.

CARDINAL HAYES SINGS MASS AT BIG EUCHARIST

Cleveland, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The brilliant ceremony of a solemn pontifical mass, celebrated by the papal legate, Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York, formally inaugurated the religious program of the seventh national Eucharistic congress today.

The Cleveland public auditorium, an Italian renaissance structure harmonizing with the pompous proceedings, was filled to capacity with approximately 20,000 persons, representing the clergy and laity of the 128 dioceses under the United States flag.

Pageantry in which the Cardinal Legate's scarlet, the rose and purple of archbishops, bishops and monsignori blended in a sunburst of color preceded the mass.

The "Cardinal of Charity" celebrated the sacrifice on a great altar placed on a stage, opening upon two vast halls.

Above the sacrificial table hung suspended a large two-sided crucifix. The hall was decorated with the national colors and the gold and white of the vatican.

The Salute Pontifical, the official papal march, rang through the edifice as a corps of trumpeters announced the Cardinal Legate's arrival.

Increasing Postal Receipts Reported

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Steadily rising postal receipts as a reliable barometer of business conditions were termed evidence of "returning prosperity" by Postmaster General James A. Farley in an address prepared for delivery today before the National Association of Postmasters.

Farley said postal income had increased from $588,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June, 1932, to $630,000,000 for the past fiscal year, despite the reduction in rates for local postage which, he said, resulted in a loss of income of $21,000,000 a year.

Big Check Lost

St. Louis, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Lost somewhere in Denver is the Colorado American Legion's certified check for $26,500 to back up Denver's bid for the 1936 Legion convention.

Charles Boettcher, treasurer of the Colorado delegation to the convention here, lost the check just before getting on the train at Denver. He replaced it with his personal note for $26,500 in presenting the city's bid yesterday.

Boettcher was the victim of a kidnapping in 1933.

NEW YORK BANK-ER IS SUICIDE

Jas. MacIvaine Leaps to Death in Houston, Tex. Last Night

Houston, Tex., Sept. 24.—(AP)—James A. MacIvaine, 45, of Caldwell, N. J., an official of the Chase National Bank, New York, plunged to his death from a tenth floor hotel room here last night.

Preparations were made to send the body to New York today.

Justice of the Peace J. M. Ray returned an inquest verdict of suicide after investigators had found a note officers said was addressed to MacIvaine's widow.

The banker died without regaining consciousness about 15 minutes after he hurtled from the window, struck a parked automobile and then bounded to the pavement. Theatergoers looked on in horror as MacIvaine fell, twisting and screaming.

A note addressed to "Dear Helen" scribbled on the last pages of a pocket diary, read:

"This is being written on a train to Houston. I love you dear, and I am awful sorry you took me. What a curse to you I am, but maybe the boys somehow can be saved. Poor Lydia and darling Aunt Lizzie. I will probably not die, worse luck for you. It will be in all the papers. Oh, the boys, the boys. Our affair was so muddy and you will be so poor."

MacIvaine left his home last month on a protracted business trip. The widow and two sons survive.

CORONER'S JURY REPORTED DRUNK

So Grand Jury Probe of Actress' Death is Considered

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 24.—(AP)—William E. Parke, Chester county district attorney, indicated today he is considering a request to the county court for a grand jury investigation of the death of Evelyn Hoey and the unusual turn events have taken since a coroner's jury inquest of the shooting got under way.

"I'm not satisfied with the stuff that's going on around here, getting the jury drunk and so forth," said Parke.

He denied shortly before scheduled resumption of the inquest at noon today that he had petitioned the court for the investigation.

Further testimony regarding circumstances of the show-girl's death in the home of Henry Huddleston Rogers, Jr., at Indian Run farm on Sept. 11 was scheduled to be heard last night. Deputy Coroner Harvey Cox suddenly announced a postponement until noon today, saying one of the six jurors is "ill."

The first official recognition of conditions came from Parke when he spoke of jurors getting "drunk." President Judge W. Butler Windle at noon said he had no request for a grand jury summons and that no information about the case had reached him.

Court attaches said the August grand jury is subject to recall until the latter part of December when a new jury will be sworn.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge was granted another day's stay in her fight to keep from going back to jail by Superior Court Judge James J. Kelly today.

Mrs. Tanner, former collector of internal revenue in Chicago, was due to be surrendered today to resume serving a sentence for failure to pay a $7,500 judgment, awarded Mrs. Suzanne Nottingham for the alienation of her husband's affections.

Mrs. Tanner's attorney asked that Judge Kelly quash the original capias for his client's arrest on the ground that the state legislature recently passed a law aimed at malice counts in judgment suits. Judge Kelly refused to entertain the motion, but suggested that Mrs. Blackledge surrender, then obtain a writ of habeas corpus, whereupon the motion might be argued properly.

The attorney agreed to carry out this procedure tomorrow. If the motion is rejected, Mrs. Blackledge will be returned to the county jail.

SANCTIONS IN CASE OF WAR UNAVOIDABLE

Britain and France to Stand Firm Against Il Duce Agression

BULLETIN

Paris, Sept. 24.—(AP)—French officials said today that Premier Laval had abandoned his efforts at conciliation of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute as hopeless.

They said that he intended to leave the dispute for the League of Nations to settle with a likelihood that sanctions would be applied against the aggressor nation.

"There is virtually no hope of avoiding sanctions," said one official, adding that only economic and financial measures were contemplated.

BRITAIN STANDS FIRM

London, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The British cabinet today approved the action of its statesmen at Geneva regarding the Italo-Ethiopian situation and decided to continue in the firm support of the League of Nations' covenant.

An authoritative source, disclosing this action, said the cabinet had decided not to make any further decisions for the moment.

It was reported that the ministers approved the dispatch of the British home fleet to the Mediterranean as a precautionary step in view of the international situation.

It further decided, it was said, to continue the imperial defense committee as a council of action empowered to take all necessary steps to keep Great Britain prepared for emergencies.

ACKNOWLEDGE DEFEAT

Geneva, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Italo-Ethiopian committee of the League of Nations today gave up its efforts to prevent war in East Africa and prepared to throw the whole critical situation into the lap of the league council.

The body, composed of Great Britain, France, Spain, Poland and Turkey decided unanimously to submit to the council a historical report describing its activities in narrative form.

The council is expected to receive the report Thursday morning and Italian sources indicated that when the council meets the Italian delegation probably will be absent.

It was explained that such absence would be in pursuance of the Italian policy of not participating in discussions of the Ethiopian question when Ethiopians are likely to speak at the council table.

With the drawing up of the report, the committee acknowledged defeat in its efforts to find a basis for a solution of the crisis.

ARM ETHIOPIANS

Addis Ababa, Sept. 24.—(AP)—An advance of thousands of Ethiopian warriors toward the northeast frontier to guard against a surprise attack by Italian forces was reported today from Adduwa.

The warriors were said to be equipped with two months' rations. The warriors were enrolled in the national army from northern Ethiopia.

In order to equip all able bodied citizens with firearms, Emperor Haile Selassie now is selling modern rifles on the installment plan to those who can afford to pay. Obsolete rifles gradually are being scrapped.

Serious disputes appear to have arisen between the Belgian government and 11 Belgian retired officers whom the Ethiopian government plans to use as the nucleus of a special police force for the protection of legations and foreigners.

The Brussels government was reported to have demanded immediate repatriation of these officers, presumably under pressure by Italy, but the officers refused to leave, arguing that they are private citizens and no longer connected with the Belgian army.

When Ethiopia Turned to Prayer for Peace

Turning to prayer in their waning hope of averting armed conflict with Italy, Emperor Haile Selassie and his church dignitaries led their people in a great service of supplication at the cathedral of St. George in the capital, Addis Ababa. Thousands of the Lion of Judah's subjects, unable to gain entrance to the cathedral, remained outside and joined in the service. Top picture shows the patriarch of Ethiopia, Abuna Kyriillos, under umbrella, and his retinue, leaving the cathedral. Below are shown the emperor and his son, Prince Makonen, as they arrived, guarded, for the service.

fighters showed both to be in first-class condition.

The evidence that Baer has taken his come-back seriously and whipped himself into superb shape was considered striking. Dr. William H. Walker, official examiner, said Max's blood pressure, measuring 128 over 80, was in sharp contrast to his condition the day of the fight he lost, along with the heavyweight title, to Jim Braddock three months ago. Baer's pressure then was 155 over 95.

When Dr. Walker remarked about the difference, Baer grinned and replied, "Why not, doc? I've been working for this fight. I never did much to get in shape before."

Louis was characteristically phlegmatic throughout the proceedings but surprised onlookers at one stage by poking with Dr. Walker. The negro's blood pressure was 118 over 65. As Dr. Walker was examining his heart, Joe smiled and remarked:

"Hadn't 'Et Yet?"

"If my heart ain't right, doc, it's because I ain't yet."

When the test was over, Louis grinned again and asked: "Kin I fight all right, doc?"

"You can fight two fights, if necessary," replied Dr. Walker.

The two fighters were friendly but not chatty as they posed on and off the scales. Baer was in good humor but not wise-cracking. He hummed, "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

Baer's hands, the subject of controversy during and after his title fight with Braddock, were pronounced in perfect fighting condition. Dr. Walker said the knuckles were knobby but found no signs of injury or inflammation.

COMMON TALK

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
Sir Philip Gibbs is one of the greatest reporters that ever lived. Those of us who knew him during the World War, realize how he turned to tell the thing as it was, but he was not allowed to.

After the war he wrote his book "Now It Can Be Told", but time had taken the edge off the truth. He wanted to tell of the war not from the point of view of rulers, but as the common man knew it.

Not content with recording facts and events, Sir Philip reports the ideas, fears, hopes, feelings and fancies in the minds of common folk, as expressed in their everyday talk as they go to and fro.

Not long ago, taking two friends, he made a motor trip through most of Europe getting the flavor of each country visited, listening to the talk of the people, finding out what is going on back-stage.

In a casual, informal way many kinds of folk were interviewed when they were not aware of it—a Cardinal of the Church, cafe waiters, laborers on the road, taxi-drivers, all sorts of people.

In every land he found the shadow of fear, uneasiness in regard to the future, economic distress, and the expectation of another war. "The world has gone mad," said an old woman selling apples.

She diagnosed the disease, saying that each nation was trying to be safe and happy without regard to the others. As she put it: "Everyone drags the elderdown over his own head"; and there it is.

Two men working on the new palace for the League of Nations talked frankly, after looking about to see if anyone was listening. Gibbs had asked what they were doing, and one looked up and grinned.

"We're not building a palace for the League," he answered. "What then?" he was asked. "We're building a new hospital for the wounded in the next war. Next time Germany will march through Switzerland."

At the end of the journey Gibbs sees Europe "drifting, lurching, hurrying toward another war." As men think so they talk, and so it will be, unless the common mind of the everyday man can be altered.

Charivari and Shower for Leslie Spencers, Amboy, Last Evening

Last evening the owners of the Dixon and Amboy Eichler stores, and their mothers, Mesdames Max and Adolph Eichler, and the employees of both the Dixon and Amboy stores, held a jolly charivari and shower for Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Spencer of Amboy at their home in that city. The Spencers were recently wed, the bride being Miss Mabel Eileen Smith, before her marriage. Mr. Spencer is an employee of the Eichler store in Amboy.

There were about thirty in the merry group calling on the Spencers and after greeting the bride and groom noisily, all enjoyed a happy evening in games and music. Miss Hegert of Amboy gave several vocal solos.

As Sunday was the birthday of John Krug, shoe salesman at Eichler's Annex, he was remembered with several nice gifts in china for his home. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were presented a beautiful linen set by the clerks of the stores, and Messrs. Eichler presented the young couple with a handsome bed spread. There were speeches of felicitation from the donors and speeches of gracious acceptance from the recipients. It proved a delightful occasion for everyone present, completed with the serving of ice cream and cake later in the evening. On leaving all wished the young Spencers long life and happiness.

Develop Dixon as an Industrial and Trading Center.NO ATTENTION HAS YET BEEN PAID BY THE ADMINISTRATION TO THE LINCOLN HIGHWAYWe would like to call the attention of Governor Homer and his highway department to the fact that in their recommendation for the use of federal money on various projects, they have again entirely forgotten the Lincoln Highway and its very great needs.Of course this is no new experience for the communities along the Lincoln Highway. They are used to being forgotten. In fact they have been thoroughly forgotten by more administrations than perhaps any other set of communities.The only time the Lincoln Highway area has been remembered the past few years is when Governor Louis Emmerson wanted to use some of his friend's bricks and so spoiled a nine-mile section of the great thoroughfare.This Lincoln Highway in this state is a main artery of travel that taps the finest part of America. In Illinois it goes through a populous area and touches some of the most thriving communities of the state.It is a part of the first of the cross-continental routes and this territory and its men were trail blazers for the cause of good roads in America.Despite these claims for consideration this great main street of America has received nothing but studied neglect from the state highway department through a half dozen administrations and we are getting tired of the condition.We want to serve notice on the various gentlemen who are aspiring for the governorship that we have no political preferences to speak of and the only issue that is going to be paramount with us is the welfare of the Lincoln Highway. And at the same time we wish to announce to our legislative delegation at the state capital that this is the most important thing that is confronting them in our opinion and their diligence in getting some sort of action on this deplorable condition is going to be our only yardstick in measuring their value to the district.It is high time that something was done to make this fine road something more than a death trap and we seek the cooperation of the rest of the press along the route to see if some results cannot be obtained.—DeKalb Chronicle.

LIFE WAS GREAT RISK ONLY 84 YEARS AGO

There came to this desk not long ago a copy of a life insurance policy, issued by the American Temperance Life Insurance Co. in the year 1851.After setting forth the company's obligations in the usual stilted language, the policy went on to tell what the insured person might not do while the policy was in force.The contract would be void, it stated, if the insured person should, without the consent of the company, pass beyond the "settled limits" of the United States, with the exception of certain parts of Canada, visit California or Oregon, travel south of the southern borders of Virginia or Kentucky between the months of June and November, take a job as locomotive engineer or fireman or as a tender of a stationary steam engine, or die as a result of a duel.By glancing at this formidable list of restrictions, we can see what human actions were looked upon as especially risky in the days before the Civil War—and, in that way, we can get a revealing picture of the state of society in those days.No visit to California or Oregon—if you went by sea you had to pass around dangerous Cape Horn, or take a short cut across Panama, which was full of yellow fever;
if you went by land, you had to cross trackless wildernesses full of hostile Indians. Such trips, obviously, were no bargain for an insurance company.Just what a man would become a bad risk if he went into the south in the summertime is not so clear. The southland was a settled and orderly land. The only explanation that occurs to one is the fact that yellow fever and malaria used to pop up in the south in hot weather; that, presumably, was what the insurance company had in mind.

The restriction on having anything to do with steam engines is an interesting one. A steam engine was apt to be a dangerous contraption, in 1851. One could never quite be sure that it was not going to blow up.A locomotive cab was an even more dangerous place; roadbeds were insecure, block signals were unheard of, dispatching systems were rudimentary—yes, the company was wise to rule out engineers.And duels . . . the old custom had not yet died, though it was on the way out. A hot-tempered and pride-ful man could still get in a duel, and the hazard was at least great enough to be worth mentioning in an insurance policy.That, then, was our United States less than 90 years ago. When you think how absurd such a policy would sound today, you can get a measure of the changes in American life.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The fine canoe that Scouty made atop the rippling water played, and then it started drifting and it soon was far from shore.Wee Goldy, with a long stick, tried to reach it. Then she loudly cried, "Oh, now you've lost it. We can't watch it bob 'round any more.""Just wait and see," said Scouty.
"Say I'll soon be on my merry way right out to where the boat is. Then I'll bring it back to land.""I made that boat myself, you see, and it won't get away from me.
I'll swim right out, or walk out, if it's not too deep to stand."The next thing that the Tines knew, he did just what he said he'd do. It wasn't very long until he reached the little boat."Twas quickly brought right back to shore. "Now, it won't drift off any more," said Scouty. "I will use a string, when next it's set afloat."And then the whole bunch heard a yell, and Copsy shouted, "Well, well, well! Here comes our wee friend, Duncy. He's a funny sight to see!""With paint someone has smeared his face. He'd better join the Indian race. He'd make a dandy brave, if he was brave as he could be.""Put on a war dance," Windy cried. "It's easy, lad, when once it's tried." "Okay," yelled Duncy.
"Someone thump that little Indian drum.""I've watched some of the Indians dance, and I am game to take a chance. It will not take me long to prove that I am not so dumb."Fair Doty grabbed the drum and said, "I'll do the thumping. Go ahead and show them just how good you are. 'Twill please the Indians, too."So Duncy danced with all his might, and it was really quite a sight. One of the Indians said,
"Why, I can't dance as good as you."(The Indians give the Tines a surprise in the next story.)SCOUTING GETS RECOGNITION AT CIVIC BANQUETDinner, Attended by Over 300, Preliminary to Annual DriveDr. John Gordon, pastor of the Second Congregational church of Rockford, delivered the principal address at the Scout Recognition dinner attended by 300 people at the Masonic Temple, Monday night, which touched off the fuse to an intensive drive for funds to meet the required $3600 budget, expenses for the 1935-36 fiscal year, in Dixon.At the banquet awards were presented leaders in Boy and Girl Scout movement here, and it was announced that Herman Brandmiller, Whiteside county field executive has been chosen by the Blackhawk Council to replace George Driesbach, Scout executive of the Council, who has resigned to take over the Scoutmastership of a new Rockford Boy Scout troop. The call was sounded by Mr. Driesbach, and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ralston, presidents of the Boy and Girl Scout Councils, for the necessary funds to insure the success of the movement this coming year.

No Finer Work

Dr. Gordon stated there is no finer work in Dixon than Scouting and said that the spirit of any movement reveals the kind of work it really is, illustrating his point byoffering the church as an example."One can tell what kind of a spirit pervades a church before one has been in its pews very long," Dr. Gordon continued, "and the same is true of an organization such as Scouting."He claimed the tendency among older persons was, as always in the past, to criticize the young. He contended this tendency should crystallize into action to help youth.
Scouting, he declared, was the best investment in this respect, for the future.To Scouts he told the story of Louis Agassiz who thought the echo of his voice was another lad.
Upon assuming a belligerent tone he was answered in the same spirit and words by his invisible rival.
Adopting a conciliatory and friendly note however, he also discovered

Same True in Life

"The same is true of life," continued Dr. Gordon, "and the world has what we want, though it depends upon us what we get out of it."Following the banquet Girl and Boy Scouts of Dixon presented eight brief tableaux directed by Mrs. Dorothy Hardy, Girl Scout executive and Harold G. Boltz, Lee-Ogle county field executive. The tableaux depicted the ritual of the Brownies, a nature scene by Girl and Boy Scouts, hiking, first aid, staff drill by Troop 89, Girl Scout handicraft, campfire scene Boy Scouts, community service Girl Scouts, and the rendition of "America" by the audience led by Mr. Boltz.Mr. Ralston honored Scout leaders in a brief talk and stressed the need of financing the budgets of the local movement starting Thursday. He said there are 2600 Scouts and 790 leaders in the Blackhawk Council and that Dixon's responsibility also includes the less fortunate smaller communities who depend on Dixon's Scouting successes. In Dixon there are now 123 leaders and 141 Scouts in 20 troops.

Mayor Slothower Talks

Mayor William V. Slothower in a brief address lauded the Scout movement as an uplifting moral and physical force, expressing the confidence of Dixon in the institution of Scouting.L. G. Adams, vice-chairman of the finance committee in charge of the coming drive, substituted for George Fleuhr, chairman, who was regrettably absent. He introduced officers of the finance committee as follows: Mrs. John Ralston, co-chairman, Arthur Glessner, Boy Scouts; Mrs. William Loftus, Girl
Scouts; Mrs. T. J. Miller, and Mrs.
John Davis, arrangements; Robert Warner, chairman of the initial gifts committee; Dement Schuler, chairman of the business district solicitation committee; Mrs. Robert Warner, house-to-house solicitation chairman; Mrs. J. N. Weiss, George Shaw, and Mrs. F. A. Hanson, publicity; John Ralston, president of the Blackhawk Council. Those unable to attend besides Mr. Fleuhr were A. H. Lancaster, chairman ofthe school solicitation committee; Glenn Cortright and Ed T. McIntosh, national concerns.

masters and commissioners by Mrs.
H. C. Warner for the Girl Scout leaders and Enos Kietheley for Boy Scout leaders, the ladies receiving thank-you badges and roses, and the men, pins. Girl Scout commissioners received awards from Mrs. John Ralston. They were:

the Girl Scout Council Mrs. T. J.

Scout campore activities in June was flashed on the screen, following which the Girl Scout Golden Eagle badge, the highest award in the Girl Scout movement was conferred upon Miss Dorothy Hoyle.
The presentation was made by Mrs.
H. C. Warner and Miss Pool. Miss Hoyle is a member of the Dixon high school troop. Her mother also received an award.

Driesbach Introduced

George Driesbach was introduced by Mrs. Ralston and he spoke on the menace of Communism which is being combatted by the Boy Scouts of America. As a leader in the cause Mr. Driesbach has resigned his position as Scout executive of the Council to assume leadership of a Scout movement in the toughest district of Rockford.The appointment of Herman Brandmiller to Mr. Driesbach's position was a worthy one. Besides his present position he was field execu-STATE HOSPITAL

IAA ATTEMPTS TO HALT BOOST IN MEAL PRICE

Says Market Will Be Closed If Rate Is Raised

A petition to suspend an increase in the Gulf to the Pacific Coast water rate on soybean oilmeal from $4.50 to $7.20 per ton which becomes effective Oct. 3 has been filed with the U. S. Shipping Board by the Illinois Agricultural Association.

In its petition the Association points out that if the rate on soybean oilmeal, in the production of which Illinois leads all states, is raised to $7.20 per ton, an important market for this Illinois product on the Pacific Coast will be closed. If the new rate goes into effect it will be cheaper for dairymen to buy meal imported from Manchuria.

The petition sets forth that "the production of soybeans in Illinois exceeds that of any other state. The acreage (Illinois) in 1934 was in excess of 500,000 acres, and in 1935 is estimated to be over 1,600,000 acres.

"Illinois has the largest soybean mills and the largest crushing capacity of processors in any state and our growers are dependent on nearby markets to dispose of their beans.

"On account of the large production, the mills will be operated to capacity. This will necessitate the broadening of markets for domestic soybean meal. The Pacific Coast is in a position to absorb a large amount of this product which is now in competition with import meal.

"Petition directs the attention of the Bureau to the fact that the price of soybean oil meal on the Pacific Coast is predicated on the price of import meal, and an increase in the rate from $4.50 per net ton, plus three per cent with minimum of five hundred tons, to $7.20 per ton will eliminate any movement of Illinois meal to the Pacific Coast on account of import competition.

"Such discrimination would seriously depress the price obtained by Illinois farmers for their soybeans.

"Wherefore, such petitioner prays that the Bureau under authority conferred suspend the operation and effective date of the above described schedule and that hearing be had at which C. Y. Roberts, Secretary of the Gulf Inter-Coastal Conference, and the carriers interested, be required to justify the discrimination against domestic soybean oil meal resulting from publication, and that after due hearing such orders be issued as the Bureau deems proper in the premises."

OHIO NEWS

This community was shocked Sunday morning to learn that Michael Pyne had been found dead in his home. When his niece, Mrs. Florence Foley Khaff, called at his home about 10:30 o'clock, she discovered Mr. Pyne's lifeless body on the kitchen floor. Mr. Pyne had lived alone since the death of his wife several years ago and although in failing health had been about his duties as usual until the time of his death which, a coroner's jury decided, was caused by a heart attack, to which he was subject.

Funeral arrangements had not been made at this time.

DAILY HEALTH

DISCOVERY OF VITAMINS: II

The first chapter in the modern story of vitamins was written in Java in 1897, when Dr. Eijkman, of the Dutch colonial service, demonstrated that the disease beriberi was caused by a diet lacking in an essential vitamin element.

The second chapter of this story was written in Wisconsin in 1906. Here Babcock conducted his famous experiments on the influence of diet on cattle.

Babcock had learned the science of nutrition in Germany. At that time, however, great emphasis was placed upon the three principal elements in diet—carbohydrates, fats and proteins. The all-important thing was thought to be the proper combination of them.

Babcock, however, was not convinced that all proteins, carbohydrates or fats were alike in their nutritional value. He took three separate groups of heifers and fed them on different cereals. One group was given corn, the other wheat and the third oats. The diet of each group of heifers contained standard amounts of protein, carbohydrate and fat. In these respects, therefore, all the three diets were equal and adequate.

For many months the animals remained in good health, but after a year marked differences were noted. The corn-fed heifers carried their young to full term and produced healthy and vigorous calves. In the oat-fed group few of the calves survived the first few months of life. The young of the wheat-fed heifers either were still-born or died a few hours after birth.

Today we conclude that the difference in the heifers was due mainly to the difference in the vitamin A content of their diets.

Working with Babcock were two men, McCullum and Steenbock who since have become distinguished investigators in the field of nutrition. In the years following the Wisconsin experiment of 1906, the search after this "unknown dietary factor" brought clearly to the fore the existence of vitamins.

FOREIGN NEED FOR WHEAT IS LIMITED; AAA

Limited foreign wheat demands constitute one of the most important factors bearing upon the income and welfare of wheat farmers in Lee county and make it imperative that local producers join with those of other counties and states in adjusting production during the coming four years declared President J. E. Mau of the Lee County Wheat Production Control Association.

This is the feature of the wheat situation today that makes it different from those years when the United States had good foreign markets for surplus wheat. The domestic carryover of about 152 million bushels on July 1, 1935, was not particularly burdensome. In former years the nation could hold the carryover to a lower level through exporting any surplus wheat grown.

Now farmers must face the fact that the world is not buying very much United States wheat and that this country must bargain for almost every bushel of wheat exported, according to information from the extension service, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Any wheat grown in the U. S. above domestic requirements of 625 million bushels and the limited export market must, therefore, be added to the carryover.

It is to hold down this excess wheat until such time as foreign markets can be found, that farmers of the U. S. through the referendum, voted seven to one that the wheat adjustment program be continued.

It would, of course, be possible to export more wheat, if American farmers took world prices for their wheat. This, however, would give farmers such low prices as to bankrupt many of them. For instance, on July 15, 1935, selling wheat at the world price would have meant a price of about 50 to 60 cents a bushel on farms in the U. S. instead of the average farm price of 76 cents on that date, it is stated in figures from the extension service.

It is doubtful, too, whether exports of wheat can be increased materially until the U. S. foreign trade is adjusted to allow more imports into this country from former wheat customers so that they can get the dollar exchange with which

SAFETY LANES REVEAL AUTOS HAVE DEFECTS

Forty Per Cent Of the Brakes Faulty Tests Show

"Safety Lane" tests conducted by the Skilled Drivers' club organized by County Farm Bureaus, in various counties disclose that brakes on 40 per cent of the cars traveling country roads are defective and incapable of stopping a car in 25 feet from a speed of 20 miles an hour, states the Safety Department of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The tests further disclose that 10 per cent of the cars examined have no tail lights and four per cent have but one head light.

The Association, which is sponsoring the county tests, points out that all factors combine to increase the number of serious accidents occurring hourly on Illinois highways. A full circuit of the state with "Safety Lane" equipment will be followed with extensive state-wide tests to establish the quickness of various types of drivers in meeting driving emergencies.

A "reacto-graph" is being constructed and will be ready for use within the next 30 days. This instrument measures in tenths of a second—the time that it takes a car operator to see an object an move his foot from the accelerator to the brake. This interval of time is just as important as his actual braking distance. Perhaps even more important is the physical and mental condition of the auto driver as this varies his time of reaction, whereas braking distance remains relatively constant and can be actually calculated.

These tests will also be made by the county Skilled Drivers' clubs cooperating with the Safety Department of the Illinois Agricultural Association. These Clubs are comprised of sons and daughters of Farm Bureau members between the ages of 15 and 24 years. All information obtained in the present Safety Lane tests as well as those to come with the "reacto-graph" will be relayed by local newspapers and county police in the hope that public opinion or official action will encourage necessary steps to create a safety consciousness in the drivers in each county. Full cooperation has been extended to the various county Skilled Drivers' clubs by local and county, civic and official organizations.

News of Interest to Community Farmers

SHERIFF ASKS OWNERS MARK THEIR CATTLE

To Protect Them From Rustlers Now Active

Sheriff Ward Miller today issued an appeal to farmers of Lee county to assist in the protection of their property by marking all poultry and cattle. The appeal was made following reports of several poultry thefts during the past few days, and one report of cattle having been stolen.

"It is just as important that farmers protect their own poultry and stock by marking them, as it is for the merchant in town to place a cost tag on his merchandise," Sheriff Miller emphasized. "I have advised farmers for years to help protect their own interests by this inexpensive plan of marking their chickens, but few have heeded that advice. Chicken thieves at this season of the year are most active in this section and the reports of the last few days indicate that they are doing a healthy business. I cannot force the farmer to mark his poultry and livestock, but I most earnestly request that they do so for their own protection."

Three large poultry thefts were reported to the sheriff's office during the past few days. Charles Merriam, residing south of Roxbury lost about 75 white rock chickens about the middle of last week. The following day Jacob Haenisch of Reynolds township had about 70 fine chickens taken from his poultry house during the night. This morning Arnold Elliott, living near West Brooklyn, reported the loss of about 75 barred rock chickens which were taken over the week end. The latter had only recently marked all of his poultry and the stolen birds bore the Prairie Farmer markings, P. F. #7618 which was tattooed beneath the right wing.

Expect Rustlers Here.
The sheriff called attention to the fact that cattle rustlers had operated extensively in Will county and were expected to extend their operations westward toward Lee county. In this connection, he again appealed to stock raisers and feeders to mark all cattle and hogs as a protective measure.

"It will be but a short time before every farmer will find it to his advantage to have every chicken, duck, goose or turkey, cattle, hogs and horses on the farm, marked with some identification. The sooner that this practice is started, the quicker chicken thieves and cattle rustlers will begin looking for another line of business as they will have difficulty in disposing of marked poultry or branded livestock," the sheriff stated.

Talk County Patrol.
Sheriff Miller is seriously considering the placing of county patrol units in operation throughout the county in a short time. His plan is to dispatch cars carrying armed deputies through various sections of the county during the night to patrol the roads and check up on all cars and trucks which are found parked near farm buildings.

Crows, Starlings Ravage Northern Illinois Fields

Some sections of Illinois have been complaining of depredations by crows though no definite reports have been received in Lee county of their ravages.

The crows are reputed to be helping themselves to the bumper crop of corn in this region just as the hawks are opening. Swarms of blackbirds on their way south are also seen in the cornfields while starlings becoming increasingly thick in Lee county are also proving their reputation as a destructive pest to the corn. The latter bird is not protected by the government and it is permissible to shoot them at sight. Crows and blackbirds are not under government protection as beneficial birds.

Producing Market Eggs

The quality of market eggs depends not only on how the flock is cared for, but how they are cared for after they are laid.

The age of an egg for example is a big factor in determining its quality, and the longer an egg is held on the farm before marketing, the more the quality is affected. The size of the air cell is an indication of an egg's age; it is smallest in eggs of the best quality.

An egg of high quality must be firm and full.

An egg with a very watery white, is surely of poor quality. In this egg the air cell may move in any direction the egg is turned. Good feeding will help to avoid this; the feeding of a grain ration and a good laying mash at all times, as well as a good supply of green food. Good management after production will also help to avoid watery whites in eggs; this means not jarring the eggs, selling them two or three times a week and packing them so that they will not shake around in fillers or cartons when eggs are shipped.

Handling all eggs before marketing will permit removing any eggs that are unfit for food, thereby raising the price for those that are sold, where a dealer buys on a graded basis.

Not only must eggs have a high interior quality, but they must also have clean, sound shells to protect the interior and be attractive in appearance.

Good sized eggs are also desired. Eggs that are under sized are cut in price and should not be sold, but eaten at home, as should abnormally large eggs, for these abnormally large eggs are apt to be broken when shipped and leak over the others in the case, ruining them. Cracked eggs should not be shipped for the same reason. An egg that weighs 2 oz. that is, 24 oz. to the dozen, is a desirable weight to strive for in the production of market eggs.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

A woman I know has just returned from northern Wisconsin where she and her family spent the summer. She was telling me the other day that several times recently she had tried to buy a stewing chicken, but the butcher in the town never had any.

Finally she asked him if he couldn't get one for her and he said he'd be glad to. When she went back—with her purse under her arm and ready to buy the chicken, the butcher told her that he had gone to seventeen different farms and not a single farmer would sell a hen. They were getting such a good price for eggs they couldn't afford to sell any hens.

More Profit in Eggs.
This week I was talking with H. L. Kempster, who is head of the poultry department at the University of Missouri.

And he was telling me that, considering the cost of feed, people are getting 5 cents a dozen more for eggs than they have at any time since he began keeping records back in 1928.

With the situation so favorable for the person who has eggs to sell, I hardly need suggest that I think it would be wise for you to keep every single laying hen you have.

And by all means feed for eggs! There is no point in keeping hens unless you're going to furnish them with the raw materials they need for manufacturing!

You have a better chance to make money on eggs right now than you've had for at least seven years. I certainly hope you're taking advantage of it.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Pribe

SILLO FILLING UNDER WAY BY LEE FARMERS

Wheat Crop May Be Larger in Summer of 1936

Silo filling is occupying the time and attention of Lee county farmers these days and attempts are being made to store the corn away before the first killing frost of the season expected most any day now.

Lee county has produced the best corn crop in quality and quantity in several years this summer it is agreed. Nearly all the corn is within a week of maturity and if frost will hold off until the first week of October most of the corn will be safe from damage. Some of the late planted corn is still in considerable danger of damage, but good seed corn may be picked from many fields at present. Properly dried will grow next year and early picking will encourage early maturity of next year's crop. Hot, wet weather this summer caused many of the fields to become weedy.

Alfalfa Good

The second cutting of alfalfa has revealed a highly satisfactory crop condition reports stated today. Plenty of feed during the coming winter seems assured and the outlook is entirely different than that of a year ago when drought caused a shortage. Following the completion of silo filling the farmers of Lee county will be busily engaged with their fall plowing operations and no success from their labors will come until this is done.

Sample ears of corn brought into Belvidere in Boone county prove the exceptionally good quality of the crop in northern Illinois. Fred Rutz living eight miles northwest of Belvidere brought in ears measuring ten inches long and eight and three fourths inches in circumference. The stalks are 12 feet high. In Boone county weeds growing during the long rainy spell in May and June choked some of the crop. Lee farmers will sow more wheat this fall than in the past two years. Farm Adviser C. E. Yale says the chinch bug infestation will be of no consequence in 1936. The effects of production control on farmers sowing wheat are not yet apparent.

BABSON HORSES TO BE HOUSED IN NEW STABLE

Ultra-Modern Barn In All Respects Is Claim

A new barn is being constructed at the Babson farm five miles northwest of Grand Detour, to house the expensive and beautiful Arabian horse stock owned by Mr. Babson.

Babson's rare breeds were exhibited last month in the Lee County Fair and Horse Show at the Dixon high school athletic field. At that time George Cason, trainer and caretaker of the Arabian horses on the Babson estate exhibited one of the three Arabian stallions in the United States, "Fatal" by name.

It was reported in Grand Detour this morning that the barn now under construction will be 144x48 ft. in dimensions, and contains shower baths for the tenants as well as every convenience for the animals.

Near Erie, Ill., extensive repairing and building has recently been completed on the farm of Frank Knowles of Moline east of Erie. The farm has been tenanted for several years by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Earl and is known as the Potter farm.

A new dairy barn 34x60 feet is nearing completion. Lee Burris of Erie is the contractor. The building is of brick and will be equipped with modern conveniences including a ventilation system. A new chickenhouse 16x36 in size has been constructed and plans are being made to remodel the house.

WILL COUNTY IS FARM BUREAU BALL LEADER

Barely Downs Adams County Team By 2 To 1 Score

With only five teams left in the running, the state championship in the Illinois Farm Bureau baseball league is fast drawing to a close, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Will County Farm Bureau which turned out the championship team of 1934, barely escaped a third game in the interdivisional match with the hard-hitting Adams county nine, when aided by errors it came from behind and won 2 to 1 at Manhattan, Sept. 7.

Adams county led 1 to 0 until the seventh when its defense cracked. With a few timely hits to help, Will county tied the score in the seventh and added what proved to be the winning run following a hard infield smash too hot to handle, in the eighth.

Henry county which has had a strong team for several years, proved too much for Carroll county. It won in two straight games in their inter-district contest.

After losing to Clay county in a hotly-contested game at Louisville, Sept. 7, Coles county evened the score by winning in their second game at Charleston, Sept. 11.

The first game went to Clay 8 to 5, reports Clifford McMorris, manager of the Coles County Farm Bureau team, with Clay making 5 hits and one error, and Coles counting 3 hits and 3 errors. The second game, Coles won 7 to 4 getting 9 hits to Clay county's seven hits. Clay was chalked up with 4 errors and Coles 2 errors. Their deciding game was set to be played at Effingham on Sept. 14. The winner of this match will take on the Will County nine.

Will county was scheduled to start a three-game series with DeKalb county at DeKalb, Sept. 14. The winner of this series will play in the state championship series with Henry, Coles or Clay.

AAA LAUNCHES ADJUSTMENT OF WHEAT PROGRAM

The new AAA wheat adjustment program which is now being launched in Lee County for the four-year period 1936-1939 seeks to make it possible for farmers to adjust their acreage to the point where national wheat production will be in reasonable balance with the markets that are available, according to Farm Adviser C. E. Yale.

The program is based upon the assumption that the acreage which United States farmers planted to wheat in the period 1930-1932 will produce, under normal conditions, more wheat than can be marketed at prices sufficient to enable farmers to continue raising wheat. In the years 1930 to 1932 the average acreage planted to wheat in the United States was 66 million acres. With average yields this acreage would result in an annual average production of 825 million bushels. The average use of wheat in this country is about 625 million bushels, and at average yields per seeded acre of 12 1/2 bushels, 50 million acres will produce this amount for our domestic needs, it is pointed out by the extension service, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Export markets have dwindled and even if they should come back on a fair scale, it is doubtful if more than 75 million to 100 million bushels could be exported each year. At average yields this much wheat can be produced on six to eight million seeded acres. Thus, instead of needing 66 million acres planted to wheat in this country each year, it appears that from 56 to 58 million will be sufficient under normal conditions.

For 1936, which is the first year under the new contract, the adjustment has been set at 5 per cent. The acreage under wheat on the basis of the acreage. This is expected to result in a planted wheat acreage somewhat greater than would be necessary under normal conditions. This relatively small adjustment was decided upon as a result of the severe rust damage which occurred to the crop last July.

The eggs of sturgeons are not taken for caviar when the female is ready to spawn, but at an earlier period, when the roe is hard. A large female may yield as much as 15 gallons, or 2,400,000 eggs. Because the sturgeon is such a valuable prize, it is becoming very rare.

INSPECTION OF DAIRY HERDS MADE FRIDAY

Whiteside County Group Inspected Three Farms

About 20 Whiteside county farmers and their families toured three county farms Friday at which time J. G. Cash, dairy expert specialist at the University of Illinois, discussed the subject of dairy herds and the subject of selecting a herd sire and other problems.

C. C. Reynolds' farm was the first stop of the group. It is located about six miles southeast of Prophetstown where they were met by about 45 members of the Prophetstown 4-H clubs who listened to a discourse on Mr. Reynolds' method of feeding each cow according to production.

Test Made.
At the W. E. Hammelman farm six miles northeast of Sterling, stanchions in a new barn had been constructed, and the agglutination test had been applied to the entire herd freeing it from contagious abortion.

The group also inspected the R. E. Johnson farm, four miles northeast of Sterling where abortion had infected the cows so badly the owner was forced to dispose of the entire herd. He purchased a herd of Jerseys. The outstanding herd sire was the main attraction and comes from a record making strain, has six sisters and an average of over 500 pounds of butterfat. Cash pointed out that was the kind of bull to buy as the herd was down in black and white and that it was not necessary to make a verbal statement to the effect the bull was a good sire.

A picnic at Lawrence park in Sterling followed the inspection trip through the county.

OGLE FARMERS RECEIVE FIRST CORN-HOG CHECK

First payment corn-hog checks amounting to $108,081 for Ogle county farmers have been received by the Allotment Committee at Oregon, according to John D. Coffman, President of the Ogle County Corn-Hog Control Association. This represents the first payment to Group 1 signers, that is, those co-operators whose corn and hog base is the same as that of the previous year, and who are working the same land.

Cards have been sent out to each contract signer, designating the place where his check will be obtainable.

Ogle County farmers interested in soil conservation work met at the Court House September 18 and organized the Ogle County Soil Conservation Association, electing as directors Amzi Johnson, Byron; J. W. Hemingway, Oregon; Joe Brooks, Forreston; Ed L. Stengel, Mt. Morris; and Leo Riley, Oregon. The directors will meet in the near future to elect officers and make application for the incorporation of the association.

It will be the purpose of this association to sponsor the terracing and limestone programs in connection with the erosion control service performed by the federal camp located at Oregon. The membership fee in the association is $2.00, with annual dues of 50c. It is necessary for anyone using the service of the federal camp to be a member of the county association.

The Bank of England carries its premises, furniture, and fittings on its balance sheet as assets to the value of one pound sterling.

COOPERATION WITH AAA IS PROTECTION

By cooperating in the AAA wheat adjustment program, Lee county farmers are protecting their income, safeguarding the national production of wheat and, through promoting better farming practices, are safeguarding soil fertility and future wheat growing in this country, according to Farm Adviser C. E. Yale.

Income of the wheat farmer is safeguarded through adjustment payments designed to give the farmer a parity return on his farm allotment, regardless of the price of wheat. The farmer also is assured of some income even in years of drought, rust or other crop damage, because the adjustment payments are based upon the average past production and not upon production in the years in which the crop damage takes place.

The chief step taken to improve the condition of the wheat farmer is through adjusting the production of wheat to the actual demand. The plan recognizes that the large export market for wheat which the United States once enjoyed has been almost lost and that continued production for a market that does not exist means a piling up of surpluses which can again drive down the price of wheat.

Adjustment is made only on the acreage which formerly grew wheat for export. There is no curtailment of the acreage needed to produce domestic supplies.

The wheat program encourages the improvement of land taken out of wheat. This is made possible through planting it to soil-improving, erosion-preventing and other crops which tend to retain and increase soil fertility.

The wheat program is a voluntary one.

Lee Farm Bureau To Participate In Big Campaign

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Farm Bureau members in Illinois are slated to take part in the statewide organization campaign the week of September 16, according to information received by the Lee County Farm Bureau from the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Aroused over the possibility that the policy of equal protection for agriculture and parity prices for farm products may be taken away, Illinois farmers are going out appealing to non-members to get in and add their influence and strength to their organization.

During the week every farmer will be invited to join his County Farm Bureau, the Illinois Agricultural Association and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Lee Picnic Will Be Held October 5 Amboy Fairground

RURAL HEALTH AIDED BY AAA SAYS DOCTOR

Farm Price Rise Enabled Farmers To Get Aid

A higher standard of health among rural people due to better surgical, medical and dental care has been made possible by the Agricultural Adjustment Act and its effect in improving farm prices, according to Dr. G. F. Patterson, manager of the community hospital at Paris in Edgar county, Ill., says the Illinois Agricultural Association.

At a recent meeting called by the Edgar County Farm Bureau, Dr. Patterson disclosed that since the movement of farm prices toward parity levels many rural people who had been neglecting their health during the period of ruinous farm prices, have come in and obtained much needed surgical and medical care.

"Our charges at the hospital are largely fixed," said Dr. Patterson. "Food is a small item of our costs. With 15 cent corn it grieves me just as much to ask 2500 bushels of corn for an operation as it does the farmer who must pay the bill. This is more corn than is produced on the average 80 acre farm."

"During the depression of 1932 and 1933 many farmers neglected medical advice and care and resorted to worthless patent medicines and palliatives because of the unfair relationship between farm prices and the cost of medical and hospital care," he continued. "It is to the interest of professional and business men throughout the country that farmers organize, control their production and obtain a reasonable price for their products. For only by so doing can they buy and use the services we can provide."

"The banks of the country are full of farmers' notes which two years ago were worthless but which today they are realizing on because farm prices are substantially improved," Dr. Patterson said.

Dr. Patterson urged that business men as well as farmers support farm organization because their interests are mutual. When farmers are getting fair prices, he said, business in Edgar county as well as every agricultural county is good. "No one is more ignorant of farm organization today than the average business man," he said. "Many of our business men who are directly dependent on agriculture should not satisfy themselves with one membership in the Farm Bureau. Instead they should have several memberships. The banks should do the same."

Corn Canning Is Nearly Complete At DeKalb Plant

Corn at the DeKalb canning plant has been canned it was stated yesterday, and indications are that the plant will remain closed a few days until the corn has further matured.

When the plant reopens the daily amount canned will be much less than has been true the past few weeks and hours worked each day will not be so long. The corn crop is expected to be totally canned this week.

It is theoretically possible for one pair of Australian rabbits to have 20 million descendants within five years.

AMBOY NEWS

By Frances Lepper.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klein and Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson of Sandwich visited here last Sunday at the James Allicks home.

Among those from here that attended the Cubs ball game in Chicago Wednesday were H. A. Bachofen, J. E. Haas, Arthur Rose and George Missman.

Alumni of Amboy high school will gather here Saturday, October 12, for their third annual Alumni Homecoming, according to an announcement made early this week by Robert A. Reinboth, president of the association. Amboy Township high school's eleven will play the Rock Falls gridsters here on the afternoon of Homecoming Day. The officers of the association met several nights ago and made tentative plans for the big event. Elbridge Jewett is vice president of the association and Miss Clara Klaprodt is the treasurer. Miss Mary Meade is the acting secretary, serving in the place of Mrs. O. C. Dean, who has moved to Wisconsin. Committee heads have been named and they will select the members of their various committees. The chairman and the acting officers compose the general business committee. The chairman names include Miss Marie Barlow, invitation; Mrs. Mildred June, banquet; Miss Margaret Rambo, decorating; and Miss Phillipa Plach, house.

Although no announcement can yet be made as to who will serve as toastmaster at the banquet, the committee is endeavoring to secure a prominent alumnus of the school. An effort is being made to secure a well known orchestra for the dance which will follow the banquet. "Bigger and Better" is the promise of the Amboy Methodists for their annual Fall Festival which is to be held Thursday and Friday, September 26 and 27. A fried chicken supper will be served Thursday evening and a turkey supper will be served by the men on Friday evening.

Fine programs are planned for each evening. On the Thursday program are listed stars from everywhere. They will include piano and trumpet artists, singers, both black and white face comedians, and a whistler.

Attorney Jacob Cantlin of Rock Falls will speak Friday evening. The Boy Wizard of the Guitars, Burnell Hertz, will play and there will be other musical numbers. At the booths you may buy everything from "barnyard gates to lingerie," according to the bills advertising the Festival.

The members of the Amboy Lutheran church are to celebrate a joint birthday party this Sunday immediately after Sunday school at the Amboy fair grounds. All members are invited. There will be games, races, etc. Bring your picnic lunch.

A huge birthday cake will grace the festive board with a birthday bank hidden in its center. Everyone is asked to bring a birthday bank. It is self-evident that all members attend divine worship and Sunday school before going out to the fair grounds.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Sept. 24—(AP)—The roar of the midnight crowd that has been lured to the ringside by the fight ballyhoo in eight years, agglutinates the return of pugilistic prosperity tonight in the vast open spaces of the Yankee Stadium.

Built a dozen years ago to exploit the hitting power of Babe Ruth, about the time that Jack Dempsey was pounding Luis Angel Firpo into senselessness, the Stadium furnishes the setting now for a fist fight between two of the most famous pugilists since Tex Rickard died and unsuspected until a 21-year-old Negro took the country by storm with his knockout punch.

It's one of the most amazing things that has ever happened in sports, no matter what the outcome this evening as Joe Louis, the chocolate soldier with the devastating fists, meets the comeback challenge of the wild-swinging, emotionally-furious Max Baer, former world heavyweight champion.

Greatest Drawing Card

In scarcely a year, Louis has become the greatest individual drawing card in American sports. The answer to a fight promoter's prayer, after a period in which heavyweight pugilism has plumbed new depths of mediocrity and financial disaster, the sensational Detroit Negro has electrified the entire fight outlook.

Win or lose against the most formidable antagonist he has faced, Louis is the main magnet for the greatest crowd that ever gathered for a non-championship match.

It's a million-dollar show, surrounded by such furious debate and such extraordinary demand for tickets at any price that the great Rickard, if he had lived through the depression years of boxing, would have looked on in wonderment and remarked characteristically, "I've never seed nothin' like it."

The legend of Rickard's luck, it seemed, has carried on under the skillful hand of Tex's one-time associate and now his successor in gifted fight promotion—Michael Strauss Jacobson.

Probable Sell-Out

The box-office reports forecast a probable sellout or the nearest thing to it in fight history. The weather man forecast "fair and warmer tonight," with nothing for Jacobs to worry about except the ultimate goal of matching the winner with James J. Braddock for the world heavyweight championship in 1935.

A capacity crowd tonight in the "House that Ruth Built" means close to 95,000 spectators and an aggregate "gate" of $1,184,830, more than twice as much money as any prize fight has drawn in five years and a mark surpassed only once and a mark surpassed only slightly by the memorable Firpo-Dempsey battle in 1923.

Measured by present-day financial standards, it is much more startling than the fact that the last Dempsey-Tunney duel attracted nearly $3,000,000 in gate receipts at Chicago in 1927.

Huge Prices

Judging from the prices speculators have been asking—and getting—for choice ring-side locations, the actual money paid to witness the bout will be far in excess of the box-office figures. Pastebars of the $25 class—and there are no less than 23,107—have been bringing anywhere from $50 to $200 each on Broadway during the last week.

Baer and Louis are assured close to $300,000 each as their share of tonight's spoils, but victory will mean perhaps $500,000 more within the next year, including a shot at the heavyweight crown.

Whether the sullen, sphinx-like Louis flattens Baer as he has most of two dozen previous professional opponents or whether the curly-haired Californian, with the berserk fury of his attack, blasts the resistance of the youthful Negro, the fight figures to be a highly dramatic, dynamic duel.

Knockout Expected

Caution on either side could prolong the fight and disappoint the thousands anticipating a repetition of the Dempsey-Firpo brawl. It will be a terrific jolt, in fact, if one or the other isn't flattened long before the 15-round limit.

The best guess is that the fight will last not more than six or seven rounds. Baer's main hopes rest in an early onslaught that will overpower the Negro, weaken his defense and provide the opening for a finishing attack.

The Californian has made no secret of this battle plan.

It would seem he has no alternative. Baer has not the speed, the stamina or the boxing ability to cope with Louis in a drawn-out engagement.

Louis Has Best Chance

The Negro's chances, if he weathers the opening blast, should increase with the bell for each succeeding round. Louis can afford to bide his time. He is a methodical fighter, the kind who likes to size up an opponent thoroughly and study all angles before letting loose. When he strikes however, he wastes no ammunition and he shoots to kill.

Gates to the Yankee Stadium were to open at 3 P. M. The preliminary bouts, including a semi-final between Max's brother, Buddy Baer and Ford Smith, Montana heavyweight, start at 7 P. M.

The main bout, which will be broadcast over a National Broadcasting Company hookup, was set

SIDELIGHTS ON FIGHT

New York, Sept. 24—(AP)—The fight fever raged across New York today from the seething streets of Harlem to the Battery.

Bars and restaurants were doing a rushing business. A survey of 30 hotels showed every one either booked to capacity or expected to be by noon.

Trains, airplanes, buses and private cars poured fans into the city for the first million dollar gate since the heyday of Tunney and Dempsey. Air tickets were as scarce as fight tickets. Railroads were hooking extra cars to the trains.

In Harlem, where Louis is idolized, enthusiasm ran high. Romero Dougherty of "The Amsterdam News" estimated there would be 20,000 Negroes in the Stadium tonight. He said a sports event never had stirred the Harlemites so much.

A force of 1925 patrolmen and detectives have been assigned to duty in the park.

The ring will be surrounded by notables. Jim Braddock, the champion, will be there, along with Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, (who may be in Baer's corner), Jack Sharkey, Jack Johnson, and Primo Carnera have tickets. Lehman of New York will head a long list of governors. John Roosevelt, son of the president, will be there.

Baer rested in his New York hotel after coming from his fight camp in Speculator last night. Louis remained overnight at Pompton Lakes, N. J., where no one was allowed to visit him. Baer said he would knock Louis out. Louis said he would knock out Baer. The odds favored Louis to make good his boast.

SWEETHEART WATCHES

New York, Sept. 24—(AP)—A feminine heart will flutter at the ring-side tonight as Joe Louis and Max Baer seek out an answer as to which is the better man.

Maybe it'll be Joe Louis' bride, "It's up to Joe," said Marva Trotter. That was the nearest she could come to giving the precise hour at which she and the bustling Brown Bomber will be married.

The ceremony, win or lose or draw, and whether before or after the fight, will take place in an apartment in Harlem's Sugar Hill.

The cockatoo is the noisiest bird in the world. The din made by a single bird is enough to drown a dozen auto horns.

WEAVER, SOLD TO BUCS, GIVES CUBS PENNANT

St. Louis Must Now Trim Cubs Five Straight

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

When Charley Grimm, manager of the Cubs, traded big Jim Weaver to Pittsburgh last winter, he probably didn't realize that the oversize right hander would pitch Chicago into the National League pennant.

Weaver practically did that stunt yesterday when he blanketed the challenging Cardinals with four hits, and his Pirate mates pounded out a 12 to 6 victory over the 1934 world champions.

That came as near as possible to tossing the pennant right into the Cubs' laps, for the only way St. Louis can win the flag outright is to trim Chicago five games straight in their final series, which starts tomorrow.

The Cardinal defeat, while the Cubs enjoyed the first of two days of idleness after their 18-game winning streak, put the Cards 3½ games behind Chicago.

Cards Can Gain Tie

If they beat the Pirates today, the Cardinals can gain a tie for the flag by beating the Cubs four out of five. If they lose to Pittsburgh, it will eliminate the possibility of a tie and require five straight or nothing.

While Weaver was subduing the Cards in brilliant fashion, the Buccaners, led by Floyd "Pep" Young, rattled a quintet of Cardinal fingers for 16 hits.

The third place Giants lost their outside chance of tying Chicago but retained the possibility that they might beat out St. Louis for second place. The Terrymen split a twin bill with the Braves, winning the opener 3 to 2 as Carl Hubbell edged out Ed Brandt in a mound duel, but taking a 9 to 7 setback when Frank Gabler and Roy Parmelee proved ineffective.

Brooklyn held sixth place safe from the Phillies by pounding Jim Bivin and Orville Jorgens for an eight run seventh inning to win the second half of a doubleheader 6 to 4. Johnny Moore's tenth-inning homer gave the Phils the opener 4 to 2.

The only American league game saw the Ankees extend their winning streak to five straight with a 5 to 1 victory over the Senators.

CHIX ORGANIZE TWIN BILL FOR S-BALL CROWD

Rock Falls Meets Locals After Ster- ling

Manager Thurlie D. Swain of the Millway Chix softball team said this morning the benefit card for Tom "Slat" Hasselberg will be expanded into a double-header affair Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock under the airport floodlights.

The Millways will face the Sterling Gyros in the first game as planned originally, with Fordham, Buster Browns pitching ace, on the mound and Lange, catching. In the second game, the Millways will oppose Rock Falls Locals, Feldtang and Underwood acting as the battery. Feldtang pitched for Reynolds Wires in the City league and Underwood is the regular Millway Chix catcher.

The contests are being arranged

D. H. S. LAUNCHES PRACTICES FOR ROCKFORD GAME

Rabs Are Severest Test for Purple and White Men

With the Rockford game only three days away, Dixon high school's intrepid football teams exultant over their smashing victories over Rock Falls, settled down this afternoon to heavy practice for the contest, which will be played at Rockford Friday night under floodlights.

Coach C. B. Lindell's men will enter the game holding memories of a 9 to 0 tie to which they held Freeport's eleven last autumn in one of the biggest upsets of the season. It later developed that Freeport had been playing an ineligible man and Dixon won the game on a forfeit. The Purple and White gridders will be inspired with the hope Rockford can be humbled in the same way.

No Illusions

The locals are not holding an illusion that the Rabs are not tough, however. A veteran line from end to end is Rockford's first line of defense behind which is a sturdy backfield. The Rab forward wall will be heavy, fast and unyielding. It will not likely crumble before Dixon's thrusts as did Rock Falls. The Purple and White team still showed weakness in the blocking department of the game. Blocking is probably the chief weapon a weaker team can employ against the stronger eleven. If developed to perfection a small team can wreak havoc with the defenses of a much larger combination.

In the realm of aerial defense Dixon did not look impressive. Though Rock Falls failed to complete most of their passes, the Green receivers were wide open time after time only to fumble the toss. Had they snatched in the oval more than two first downs would have been their reward.

Dixon Line Tough

Rockford will find Dixon's veteran line also a tough crew to separate. The locals did not allow Rock Falls within their own 35 yard line. In punting Reubek can hold his own with anything the Rabs have to offer in the way of distance. Defensively the Lindellmen will be the equals of their opposition in straight football. If the aerial defenses can be perfected Rockford will not find the touchdown path strewn with roses. Meanwhile fans are waiting and hoping that the Dixonites can manage somehow to tell the champion of the Big Seven.

An Indian is not limited to one name all his life. His birth name is used until he wins a tribal name. This is given him by a chief, and he must accept it. However, he is given many chances to improve his standing, and each additional feat of bravery brings him a better name.

as a benefit for "Slat" who was injured in a post-season game between the Millways and the Sterling Gyros at Sterling a few weeks ago. Softball fans will be anxious to see the Millways with their reinforcements from other City league teams, in action here again before autumn sets in in earnest.

Fordham hung up a record as one of the strongest hurlers in the City league while Feldtang's cannonball serve, while partially solved by Dixon batters during the summer is almost certain to baffle the out of town opposition.

Baer's Home Town Will Listen Over Radio To Battle

Livermore, Calif., Sept. 24—(AP)—Win, lose or draw, Max Baer's home town—right here—was getting more excited every minute today over its curly-headed son's fight tonight with Joe Louis.

The citizenry had good cause to be excited too, for some $12,000 is up on Baer "to win." That figure is about $3.50 for every man, woman and child in this cattle and farming community.

Everybody who isn't working—and few will be during the fight—plans to gather around loudspeakers and hear the blows fall.

RAPIST-KILLER'S MORBID TASTES ARE UNCHANGED

Prospects of Electric Chair Fail to Chasten Peoria Youth

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 24—(AP)—Even the prospect of death in the electric chair in three weeks had failed today to dull Gerald Thompson's morbid appetite for erotica, said Warden George F. Sehning of the old prison here.

The 25-year-old Peoria toolmaker, scheduled to be electrocuted Oct. 15 for the rape-murder of pretty Mildred Hallmark, cafe hostess, who resisted his attack, expressed indifference to his fate in a talk with Warden Sehning.

He said, "Why should I be afraid to die?"

But he was annoyed when prison officials refused to permit him to read the sexy magazines which in other days were the center of his "literary" interest.

Instead he is forced to satisfy himself with two books a day, most of them western stories and detective thrillers, and a supply of non-sexy magazines offering mystery stories and tales of the plains, Warden Sehning announced.

Recieves Chaplains

Despite his sex obsession the condemned prisoner continued daily to receive both the Protestant and Catholic chaplains, the Rev. Edward G. Winger and the Rev. Eligius Weir. He is a professed Methodist.

Attorney Ren Thurman, who defended Thompson in the trial, today was preparing a petition for a writ of supersedeas from the state supreme court which would stay execution until the court heard an appeal.

If the writ is granted, I will have a chance to present the case at the December term," Thurman said. "One of the points in the petition will be that the slaying was not murder. Under the law it could not have been more than manslaughter."

Thompson's brother Victor, sentenced to one to ten years in prison for taking indecent liberties, with an 8-year-old boy, will be confined at the diagnostic hospital and new prison and will not be permitted to see his brother until the final day, if at all, Warden Sehning indicated.

WHISTLING MEWING GROWLING BIRD

MANY unusual noises come from a flightless bird of New Zealand that is about the size of a chicken. It whistles, it mews like a cat, it growls like a dog. And it's known by the diminutive name of Kiwi or Apteryx.

Since it can't fly the Kiwi is a fast runner. It stays in its nest under the roots of a tree, or in a hole in a bank, and comes out only at night for its food of worms and insects. And, as small as it is, the hen lays eggs each one-fourth its weight, and then lets the cock-bird hatch them!

Another peculiarity of this fast-flying bird is its long pointed beak, close to the tip of which are its mitted nostrils, the only bird known to have nostrils so close to the edge of the beak.

New Zealand it illustrates this bird on one of its latest stamps, although that country also showed the bird on a stamp of 1893.
